Prize Winning Canadian Peonies Exhibited In London

This unique picture shows the much discussed Canadian Peonies grown in Montreal by Mr. Ormiston Roy and shipped to England in cold storage in a Canadian Pacific vessel, on exhibition in the window of the Canadian Pacific offices in London, England. The Royal Horticultural Society has presented the Banksia Silver Medal to Mr. Roy, and several London papers have remarked editorially upon the extraordinarily perfect condition of the blooms after their long sea voyage. An interesting feature of the picture is that in the window may be seen the reflection of the new Canadian Building which stands almost directly opposite the Canadian Pacific Offices and was recently opened by the King and Queen.

INSPIRING ADDRESSES BY SPENCER, WOODS & LOVE AT U. F. A. CONVENTION

Delegates Pay High Tribute to Sitting Member—Faith in U.F.A. Movement Deepens

The Battle River annual convention held at Wainwright July 27th and 28th, was in some important respects unique. Every convention, like every individual has a character all its own. That character is more easily felt than described, yet is infinitely more important than any of the items of business which may be transacted, even as the melody of a piece of music is more important than the signs on the clef by means of which it is expressed.

DOMINANT NOTE FAITH IN MOVEMENT

The unique element which would have impressed the visitor was an air of quiet confidence which said, "We have faith in our movement—faith in what it has done and faith in what it will yet do," while there were great outbursts of enthusiasm at times, as when President Wood rose to speak, or when Mr. Spencer was nominated, one felt that the delegates who filled nearly every seat in the large hall, realized that they had undertaken a life job, that they realized their responsibilities and were determined to fulfil their obligations at all costs. There was no evidence of temporary or artificial stimulation, nor was any desired so far as could be gathered.

NO THOUGHT OF ANY COMPETITOR

There was a great deal of ordinary business, but the main object of the convention was to nominate a candidate for the Federal election, should one come before the date of the next convention. H. E. Spencer, the present member, was chosen unanimously. There was no thought of a competitor, which in itself was a splendid tribute to the sitting member, yet with all it was a tribute well earned. Most politicians have the faculty of representing themselves at nothing less than one hundred per cent. Mr. Spencer lacks this faculty entirely. He has far better wares than he is ever able to exhibit. He was nominated because every one of his constituent knows that he possesses all the great qualities which go to make a true servant. There knowledge of his character, gained through the many years of faithful service to his community, is the basis of their implicit confidence. Few constituencies in Canada have been so well or so devotedly served as Battle River has been during the last four years, and few sitting members at Ottawa will receive the esteem and appreciation that were accorded to Mr. Spencer by his constituents at the nominating convention. Surely a striking proof that virtue sometimes brings rewards other than that which it is in itself!

SPEECHES BY PRESIDENT, SPENCER AND LOVE

The main speeches of the convention were delivered by Mr. Spencer, M.P., President H. W. Wood and J. R. Love M.L.A. for Wainwright. Mr. Spencer reviewed at length and in detail the national debt, methods of borrowing on the national credit, the Grain Act and rural credits.

With Regard to finance, Mr.

Spencer is confident that in the near future will compel the Government to adopt some means of socializing credit, that control of finance by a few individuals who make money a commodity rather than a means of exchange must be stopped, and that a Federal Reserve Bank should be established. The Grain Act amendment was a deplorable disappointment. Both old parties were together defeating the legislation required in the best interests of agriculture, and worse still, they were led in the Grain Act fight by one who represented himself as a farmer who stood for the best interests of agriculture.

FORCED BY IMPORTUNITY OF WESTERN MEMBERS

In speaking of the Rural Credit bill, Mr. Spencer pointed out that the Government had dilly-dallied all the year in the endeavor not to introduce rural credit legislation, but being forced by the importunity of the Western members, the Government brought down a ridiculously inadequate provision at a time in the last day of the session when its passage was hopeless.

President H. W. Wood holds as no man ever held the confidence of the Alberta Farmers. This was evident by the reception accorded him, and by the eagerness with which the whole convention hung upon his words. President Wood is a real leader. He knows what to say: he says it at the right time, and says it in the right way. He never dodges a truth because in doing so he might temporarily avoid a hardship. On this occasion, as on all others, he faced the issues with refreshing frankness. His counsel

DEATH AND FUNERAL OF MR. T. H. SMITH

After laying helpless for a period of nearly three months, following a stroke of paralysis, Mr. T. H. Smith passed peacefully from this life, at his home, last Sunday evening. An impressive funeral service, attended by many friends, was held at the home, Tuesday morning, August 11th. Rev. Sage, of Edgerton, who officiated, delivered an inspiring address. After this service the cortege wended its way to the cemetery near Butcher Lake, where interment was made. Messrs W. McCluskey, C. G. Forryan, D. W. Parcels, G. G. Shantz, W. Petrie and W. Cubitt acting as pall bearers.

Mr. T. H. Smith was one of the early settlers of the Chauvin district, and underwent with his family all the hardships inseparable from pioneer life. He is survived by two sons, Guy and Cyril (the former living in Winnipeg, and the latter a war veteran and successful farmer in our midst) and two daughters, Dorothy and Ethel, both of whom have brought honor to the district by earning their graduation as registered nurses, and Mrs. T. H. Smith, the widow. We have a deep measure of sympathy from all in Chauvin and district.

CHAUVIN FAIR WELL ATTENDED BIG SUCCESS

The fourteenth annual Chauvin Fair was successfully held last Friday. In view of the fact that a number of farmers were anxious to get out and commence harvesting, it is really remarkable that the fair was as big a success as it proved to be.

The official judges, sent by the government, had a busy day. Horses were judged by James Mutch, of Sedgewick; cattle by H. W. Scott, district representative, Sedgewick; sheep and pigs by H. A. Craig, provincial weed inspector. Grains, grasses, roots and vegetables were judged by Mr. Craig and Mr. Scott. Mr. Craig also assisted in the children's work: and Miss McLaughlin, of Spruce Grove, judged the ladies work and domestic manufactures, and childrens department.

Great interest centred round the stock judging competition. The boy entrants in this proving excellent judges, having taken full advantage of the recent classes conducted by Mr. Elliot of Vermilion. Two entrants tied for first place with forty-nine marks out of a possible fifty; the next two tied for third place with forty-seven marks.

Entries in the horse classes were as numerous as last year, and the exhibits were for the most part up to the average.

A lesser number of cattle en-

"NORTH OF 36"

"North of 36" pictures thrills of pioneer days. It's a story of pioneers—a story of Texas, directly after the civil war. The terrific struggle of cattle men to find a market for their stock, and the hardships endured by the settlers of that state are very clearly shown. This film, in eight reels, measuring 7,908 feet, is full of the romance of the pioneers,
and the terrors and bravery of the Texas cattle trail. Showing at Chauvin Monday, August 17th
and at Edgerton the following night.

SASKATCHEWAN
CROP REPORT

August 4th 1925

The wheat prospects indicate a yield slightly better than the average, taking the province as a whole, according to telegraphic reports received by the Statistics
Branch of the Department of Agriculture.

The wheat in the central and northern districts with the exception of the extreme north-western part is more uniformly good than in the southern districts, where the wheat on the heavy land is a very promising crop, but on the light land, and in some districts in the south west,
the crops have suffered from the heat and drought, and the yields will be light.

Coarse grains are only fair, and
rain is needed all over the province, except in a very few districts, to bring them all along; in fact there are few districts where rain would not benefit all crops.

The weather during the past two weeks has been dry and hot with some cool nights. Frost has been reported in a few places in the eastern half of the province,
but so far as is known field crops
have escaped injury. The danger of the heat ripening the grain too quickly without properly filling is causing some anxiety in a few districts.

Crops have suffered very little damage from any source, except

Alice Discovers New Wonderland at Wembley

"The animals went into the Ark in case it should rain." "Long John Silver was also there."

"I know what we'll do," said Alice, "let's go to Wembley." "What do you want to go to Wembley for?" asked the Walrus, who was always asking foolish questions anyway.

"I want to see the sailing ships and sealing-wax and cabbages and kings," replied Alice.

"Ha, ha," laughed the Walrus, "you won't see any sealing-wax there, it's all at Madame Tussauds and I have my doubts about the cabbages, too."

"Well, I shall see lots of sailing ships and kings," said Alice starting to cry, for she was very fond of cabbages, "and, anyway, if you go to the Exhibition alone you won't be able to get in to Treasure Island as they don't admit adults unless they are escorted by children."

"Oh, all right," said the Walrus, who, being 182 years old, no longer regarded himself as a child and had secretly wanted to go to Treasure Island all the time.

So away they went.

When they arrived at Treasure Island they found a real train—not a very big one, it is true, but nevertheless, the real train in the world—puffing like a grampus, at a little station labelled Banff, as if anxious to get on its way around Wonderland.

"Look," said Alice, "there's Peter Pan."

"That ain't Peter Pan," said the Walrus, whose education had been sadly neglected, "that's a Canadian Pacific engine."

"I don't care," answered Alice, starting to cry again, for, like all modern children, she hated to be contradicted by her elders, "it's called Peter Pan because it goes everywhere and never gets old or tiresome." This sly reference to his age effectively subdued the Walrus, who now relapsed into silence, and didn't say another word until they were seated in the little train and slowly pulling out of Banff.

It would take too long to describe all the things they saw or all the wonderful people they met, but they had such an interesting time that Alice soon forgot all about her cabbages and sealing-wax.

There was Long John Silver, with his one eye and wooden leg and piratical disposition; and there were Mother Goose, Sir Francis Drake, Robinson Crusoe and Man Friday, Humpty Dumpty, Little Bo Peep, Jack and Gill and all the other fairyland people Alice had read about but never met before. And they saw the animals going into the Ark which Noah had provided for them in case a rainy day should come along and wash off all their paint.

Of course, they saw lots of other things, too — the Rocky Mountains, for instance, and the Golden Hind.

"While we're about it," said Alice, when they had seen all there was to see at Treasure Island, "we might as well go in and see the "Canadian Pacific Pavilion. Everybody goes there, you know." So in they went, and saw all the good things to eat and wear and work with that they have in Canada. They were shown around the building by a big man in blue who had "C.P.R." on his epaulettes, and explained to them that the initials meant Canadian Pacific Railway, and that they had put up this building and made Treasure Island in order to let the boys and girls in England know what a fine country Canada is. But it presently began to get dark and Alice had to take the Walrus home and give him a bath before he went to bed.

"Well, that's that," remarked the Walrus, when they got outside.

"Of course, it is," replied Alice, "what else would it be?" "I mean it's all over now," grumbled the Walrus who had been annoyed because Alice had refused to allow him to go into the Ark with the other animals, "and you didn't see any sealing-wax or cabbages, and not many kings either."

"That's quite true," replied Alice patiently, "but I've found out a lot about Canada and I've had a jolly good time, so you may grouse as much as you like—I'm quite satisfied."

And so they went home, and the funny part of it is, Alice did not wake up—for she had not been dreaming at all.

These are the good old days
we will be longing for a few years
from now.

It is better to be silent and to be thought a fool than to open your mouth and prove it.

"How fitting," thought the silk

BIG SUCCESS

tries were received. Outstanding amongst the exhibits were the Shorthorn herd shown by Geo. Snell Sr., in the Get of Bull Competition. These showing a high standard of uniformity to type. The absence of cattle showings by some of our old time exhibitors was to be regretted; but this was to some measure compensated for by new competitors entering the ring.

A good showing of vegetables were displayed, entries being more numerous in this class.

Domestic manufactures proved quite as popular as in previous years; but entries and exhibits of ladies work were slightly below average. A bigger showing of childrens work was in evidence.

The fair was well attended. Visitors were interested right up till the closing hour of the fair, there being a program of horse racing, harnessing, and hauling contests, which were watched keenly. The opening of the exhibition hall, after judging was a signal for quite a rush, the building being thronged to capacity for quite a while. A nickle, we observe, was sufficient to purchase a city dime sandwich at the the lady directors and friends of the Chauvin Agricultural Society.

Moving pictures in the Oddfellows' hall, and later, a dance, brought the day to a successful close.

RECEIVING POOL MONEY

Every day several of the farmers of this district receive cheques for the third payment of the grain shipped through the wheat pool. It was expected the final payment would be along about this time but instead a third payment is being made, the cheques being marked as payment to the end of June. This payment is 20 cents per bushel. It is expected that the final payment will be somewhere between ten and twenty cents.

It will pay you to watch Saker's Ad. from week to week. Their prices are original and mean real money to you.

CASTOR FALLS TO CHAUVIN AFTER FIFTY BASKET BALL VICTORIES

On Wednesday last the famous Chauvin basketball team left amid flying banners and hearty good wishes, chaperoned by Mrs. Reynolds Mr. Reynolds and Eddie Hass for Alliance. Here they played in a two day tournament held during the stampede there.

The first game played was between Alliance and Galahad. The latter winning by a small score.

Chauvin was to play Consort, but the latter failed to put in an appearance, so the game was won by default.

The final game of the day took place at 6 p.m. between Chauvin and Galahad. Chauvin easily won the game by a score of 33—11, making them the champions of the day.

On the following day, three games were played. The first between Veteran and Daysland, the score 19—20 in favor of Daysland. The next game was between Castor and Daysland. Castor here retained their undefeated record by a score of 27—12. The final game for first money was then played between Chauvin and Castor. But Chauvin's close checking by the defence who were Eunice Hass, Elma Hass, and Florence Cahill, and the deadly work of the forwards who were Erma Hass, Jeannie Johnson and Lily Cahill proved too much for the once holders of the Central Alberta championship and winners of fifty straight games and undefeated basket ball team for three years. The game was very fast and many brilliant plays were made by both teams. The score was 32—27.

The girls returned on Saturday very triumphant looking.

CARD OF THANKS

The Chauvin Basket Ball Girls wish to extend their sincerest thanks to those who so kindly contributed to the collection which made possible their trip to Alliance.

PROTECTION AGAINST MOSQUITOES

Certain protective mixtures applied to the skin are of great value in warding off mosquitoes, black-flies and similar pests, especially when the insects are very numerous. A number of formulas for such mixtures are given in a pamphlet on the methods of protection against mosquitoes and black-flies, just issued by the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. A mixture recommended by the author is composed of 3 ounces of oil of citronella, 1 of spirits of camphor, 1 of oil of tar, 1/4 an ounce of oil of pennyroyal and rom 4 to 6 ounces of castor oil.

Another mixture consists of 2 ounce sof oil of citronella, 1/8 of an ounce of ennyroyal and 2 ounces of castor oil. The castor oil is included to revert injury to the skin. Tallow may be used instead if it is desired to have the mixture in the form of a paste.

When the insects are abundant it is necessary to apply the mixture at least once every half hour using liberal quantities and rubbing it thoroughly over the hands and face. Care should be taken to have a sufficient quantity of a mixture when on an extended trip in the woods. At least an ounce per person per day is necessary if the flies are at all abundant. The mixture should be carried in a small aluminum flask or screw top tin, but not in a glass bottle as it is apt to break.

If you want it fresh, good quality and low priced—Get it at Saker's.

INSPIRING ADDRESSES BY
SPENCER, WOODS & LOVE
AT U. F. A. CONVENTION

characteristically vigorous blended with caution, suggested unusual wisdom, and his faith in the ultimate outcome of the U.F.A.
His address was a real source of inspiration to his hearers.

President Wood reviewed with astonishing keenness of observation the history of the U.F.A., especially during the past fifteen years. He carefully attempted an estimate of accomplishments
that had grown out of the educational and preparatory work of that period. He contrasted present achievements with the inarticulate helplessness of farmers a century back, and expressed confidently the view that fifteen years from now the position of the farmers will be as much improved over the present as the present is over the conditions of fifteen years ago.

In referring to the venture of the movement into politics the President spoke with a touch of justifiable pride of the experiment in democratic political action. He inferred that the political method put into operation by the U.F.A. is of the nature of a discovery the possibilities of which the future alone will reveal.

WILL U.F.A. BUILD ON SOUND FOUNDATION?

Looking ahead from where we now stand, Mr Wood mapped out the character of the work to be done, as well as the character of the educational effort that will be necessary in order to accomplish the tasks that are to come. The work and education from now on will be different from the past,

inasmuch as the past fifteen years
have been preparatory—the laying of foundations. Tomorrow, some one will raise a superstructure on these foundations of democracy. Of the stability of the U.F.A. foundations, President
Wood has no doubt. The question that he raised was: Will the U.F.A. of the present continue to build on the foundation that has been so well based or will the glory of this be left to succeeding generations.

The educational character of the movement will have to be somewhat different, in keeping with the task. This was illustrated by pointing out the difference between the work of a child in the primary class struggling to fashion the tools with which the mind will have to work and that of a student in the field
of scientific experimentation.
The past gave birth to the democratic idea; the future must perfect the idea and make it work.

In sounding an inspirational note, Mr. Wood referred to the stimulation coming from the novelty of doing new things. In many respects that stimulation would from now henceforth be lacking because the novelty was gone. There must be substituted for that, declared Mr. Wood, "a realization of our citizenship obligations and opportunities. We must achieve for the mere love of achievement." In establishing a foundation of true democracy

the U.F.A. had gone further than any other movement in history.
If advancement stopped with the novelty, others would do what it should be the privilege of the present generation to do.

POOL DIFFICULTIES WHERE
NO U. F. A. LOCAL

J. E. Love was listened to with marked appreciation as he delivered an able and forceful address on the co-operative marketing movement. Mr. Love illustrated by amusing incidents how difficult it was to conduct a Pool campaign in districts where there are no U.F.A. Locals. He pointed out that every class was selling something. Working people sold labor, professional people sold service, while mercantile classes sold goods. All these classes had their pools, some of which were compulsory. The doctors' pool was compulsory; it not only fixed fees for services, but regulated
the supply of services so as to make it more easy to obtain the fixed fees. The bankers' pool for fixing the price of money, and the manufacturers' pool were outstanding examples. These co-operated in their separate classes for mutual benefit. This was what the farmers were now trying to do by their Wheat and Poultry and other Pools.

Other speakers were Neil East,
who spoke on the present financial system, giving an outline of how anation or an individual may handle credit without paying toll to bankers; Mrs. Postans, who gave a very interesting account of the U.F.W.A. efforts in organizing the Pools and made an appeal for continued diligence on the part of the women's section of the movement, and Wm. Irvine who gave a short inspirational talk at the close of the convention
which was highly appreciated.

MANY IMPORTANT
RESOLUTIONS CARRIED

There were a number of resolutions discussed and passed,
among which were the following:
that the post office savings department be extended and used as a means of providing finance for Government use; that the economic group idea be retained
as opposed to party organization;
that the provincial department
of Education be requested to delete from text books all glorification of war; that a Federal Reserve Bank be put into operation;
and that the indemnity of Federal members be arranged on a sliding scale. In discussing this latter resolution it was pointed out that Western members who were away from home six months of the year lost a lot more in a business way and were at a greater expense than Eastern members, and Eastern members should be paid less accordingly. One delegate suggested that every M.P.
should have to punch a clock, so as to keep them all on the job.

Officers elected included: A.
F. Aitlen, president; W. Skinner, vice-president.

The convention was in the truest sense a success. There was a good attendance of delegates and a large crowd of interested farmers and visitors. Many Locals unable to be represented forwarded their annual fees and their good wishes. The singing of the National Anthem brought proceedings to a close at 6 p.m.
Tuesday.

EARL HAIG AS ENGINE DRIVER

WHEN Field Marshal Earl Haig crossed the Canadian Rockies on his special Canadian National Railways train, he expressed a wish to view the scenery from the cab of the engine rather than from the observation car which was attached to his train. He therefore took the throttle of the locomotive at Blue River and drove his own engine for several miles. Upper photograph shows him aboard the engine of his special, while below he is shown with Countess Haig, looking out toward Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies.—C.N.R. Photos.

It's as hard for some to suspect evil as it is for others to suspect good. If loss of sleep means loss of beauty the average man must be troubled with insomnia.

"MOVING BEES"

(Experimental Farms Note)

Moving bees consists not only in transporting them to the new location, but in making them stay there.
As bees range two to three miles from the hive in search of nectar, they will, if the new location is within this area, likely return to the old home; if, however, it is outside they will remain where placed.
The best time to move bees is in the spring or fall when the weather is cooler and the homing instinct weaker than in the summer.
To move in summer time to a point inside the range of flight, first move the bees to a point outside of it, or down cellar for a week, then to the ultimate location.
If the move is a short one use a wheel barrow and bump the bees well, place an object to attract their attention in front of the entrance of the old locaton as much as possible.

The colony should be prepared for ransportation in the evening or early morning to prevent loss of field bees.

The bottom-board and cover body by staples sold for the purpose or by wooden cleats and nails.

To close the entrance and give ventilation, take a piece of wire gauge six inches wide and as long as the entrance is wide, and fold it along its longer centre line Thrust the "V" edge into the n-trance and fasten one leg off the "V" to the bottom-board and the other to the face of the hive by laths and nails.

Should the weather be hot, make a two-inch frame of dimensions similar to the hive body, and cover or roof it with wire gauze. This stapled to the hive in place of a cover gives top ventilation and clustering space.

If transportation is by wagon or automobile, place the hive so that the frames will be parallel to the axles of the vehicle; if by railroad, let them be perellect to the rails.

THE TURNING

It isn't always easier
To smile instead of sigh:
It isn't always easier
To laugh instead of cry:
It isn't always easier—
When things seem wrong all ways—
To carry on and force a grin;
But, son, you'll find it pays.
For when you're really down and out,
Just tears won't put you right.
You've got to stand and buckle to
And fight wth all your might.
So here's a thought to cheer you on (Maybe worth the learning),
That every road, however ong,
Somewhere takes a turning.

It's the man on the fence who feels the first puff of a political breeze.

"Is he married?"
"I don't know. He's a reserv-ed sort of a fellow—keeps all his troubles to himself."

SHELTERING PIGS
FROM THE SUN

(Experimental Farms Note)

Growing pigs, especially white ones, are very subject to sunscald if allowed to run in grass or rape without shade. A very effective shade has been provided at Rosthern in the following manner.

In the spring of 1917, caragana seed was sown in twelve rows, four feet apart, across the rear of the pig pastures, and fenced to keep all stock out. The ground was kept carefully hoed till 1920 when further work could not be carried on because of the thick root system and the branches, which by this time shaded the ground sufficiently to smother weed growth. In 1919 the plants were thinned to one foot apart and the thinnings sold to a nursery at 1 cent each, which netted $125. In 1922 the fence was removed and pigs allowed to use the shelter. It is in use now for the third season, and affords a very efficient and artistic shelter.

Cattle, sheep and horses must be kept away from caragana because they seem to relish it as much as grass. Mature hogs will also eat it if pasture isc not available.

"How is it, Jock, that ye mak sich an enairmous profit on yer potatoes when ye gie a special price to each friend?"

"Weli, I tak a half-crown off the price because he's a friend of mine; then I tak ten pounds off the hundredweight because I'm a friend o' his."

A Scotsman declared that telegraphy was know in Scotland at the dawn of time.

"We've dug up the wires," he said.

To which an Irishman replied: "We had wireless telegraphy thousands of years ago."

"How can you prove that?"

"Sure, we've not been able to find any wires."

"I'll bet you will laugh at this joke."

"No, sir. We have too much respect for old age."

SEVERE HAIL STORM HITS

FABYAN WAINWRIGHT
AND HEATH DISTRICTS

Wainwright—Possibly the worst hail storm which this district has known, at least for a number of years hit town on Monday night about seven o'clock and its speedy passage from south-west round to north-east did quite considerable damage. The storm was accompanied by terrific wind also, although the deluging rain lasted only a very short while.

So far as we can learn there were about twenty farms (these being quite stretched out) which had a severe visitation of the storm, from Norman King's farm at Fabyan away over to Mr. L. Dolphin's place north of Heath in the east.

The hail streak seemed to be about seven miles wide, and continued on its course eastward and northward for possibly many, many miles with its destructive force.—Wainwright Star.

After an hearing before A. E. Keith, J. P. Saturday August 8th, W. Montgomery was fined $20.00 and costs for violation of the Alberta Liquor Control Act, on August 1st.

THERE ARE OTHERS

If times are hard, and you feel blue,
Think of the others, worrying, too;
Just because your trials are many,
Don't think the rest of us haven't any.
Life is made up of smiles and tears,
Joys and sorrows, mixed with fears;
And though to us it seems one-sided,
Trouble is pretty well divided.
If we could look in every heart
We'd find that each one has its part,
And those who travel Fortune's road
Sometimes carry the biggest load

Luck always seems to favor the man who doesn't count on it.

When you come up against stumbling-blocks, turn them into stepping-stones.

"My boy, why it is always best to tell the truth?"

"Because you don't have to remember what you said."
